

THE TELEGRAPH.

Office 126 Main Street. OHIO

Friday Morning, Feb. 13, 1880.

Senator Conkling marshals the interests of the Empire State.

Mr. W. F. Goodspeed is the newly appointed U. S. Marshal of this district.

The Warren Tribune says that President Lincoln is not in the Congressional field.

He refuses utterly to be put into that category.

A delegation of ten Sherman men were elected on the third inst., to represent the Republicans of North Carolina, at the Republican National Convention.

The nomination of a candidate for President.

The struggle between the respective friends of Grant and Blaine for the delegation of Pennsylvania to the National Convention was quite a lively one.

The sentiment was divided. Grant's friends carried the day. The vote stood 133 to 118.

The Democrats headed the third term phalanx.

While the Standard has an article in one column denouncing the rascality and depravity of the Indiana exodus, in the adjoining column is another in which the Democratic advantages from the exodus will be something to take to heart.

There is no method in that kind of madness, friend Daniel.

In the case of Zenas Wilson, assignee of T. B. Ware, & B. Seely & Co., to recover payment on cheese, the verdict was rendered on Thursday last, and was for the plaintiff for $770.

Some of our banks, as well as those of Pennsylvania, have a decision showing a feeling of regard for the Emperor.

There is a report that the Emperor of Russia has become a lunatic. It may not be true, but it would not be surprising were it so. Insanity has not been uncommon in the Romanoff family, and the condition of affairs in Russia has been favorable to the development of the malady in the present Emperor.

We do not hear much about the Monroe doctrine in connection with the Isthmus improvement scheme, notwithstanding France furnishes the means. Public sentiment may yet manifest an interest in the affair. Yankee policy will deliberate a while before definite action.

The Washington dispatches of yesterday rather set back those aspiring to positions in the census bureau. All the supervisors of Ohio have been rejected, for the reason that they are all Republicans. The prospect is, therefore, that it will be necessary to pick again, starting again, with a new set of candidates, and the doing of the work all over again.

The advent of the colored people of Indiana, coming unannounced, among the Democracy, and the Voorhees committee to examine into the rights of people with a dark skin to migrate, does not seem to be making much satisfactory headway. Besides this, the Hendrick clubs are unhappy. Rifle clubs and golden circles are needed to infuse a little effervescence into these matters.

The President is reported to be opposed to the oceanic canal question, on the ground of the Monroe doctrine, and that he will make his position plain and effective. He is said to propose radical ground by the government. On the other hand, Secretary Evans opposes any expression of opinion on the subject, and does not like the attitude of the President concerning the Monroe doctrine.

Hudson River Tunnel.—Our readers are not, perhaps, aware of the fact that a tunnel under the Hudson, between Jersey City and New York, is now in the course of construction. It was originally intended to be a single one, with an internal diameter of 24 by 36 feet. This plan has been changed—the change consisting in the driving of two separate tunnels, of a capacity of 15 feet in height, with sufficient width to accommodate the passage of the largest sized cars. The reason given for this change, is the greater strength it would have over the single tunnel, besides a considerable saving in the expense of construction. Another point in favor of the double tunnel, is the heavy wall between the two borings that will prove of great value in holding up the roof and surrounding mass of water. A sheet iron casing, three-eighths of an inch in thickness, will be carried fifteen or twenty feet in advance of the workmen, thus protecting them from any possible caving in of the roof or sides. The brick work will be placed inside the casing, and the work of building the side walls and arched roof will be begun this week. With these changes in the plans the managers and engineers feel more confident than ever, that complete success will attend their efforts to connect both ends of the Hudson by a sub-aqueous railway.

Who will fill Garfield's Place.

It may seem somewhat early to enter upon the discussion of this question. But since the friends of some of the candidates have engaged in "wire-pulling" for several weeks, it may be excused for also briefly referred to it. And perhaps it is well to begin to canvass the subject with an abundance of time before us, for true it is, it requires some knowledge of the material offered as a substitute for the great man who has so long represented us. In making selection we must exercise the utmost care that we be not influenced by the personal interest or friendship, for it is not an individual but a matter of national importance.

People talk about filling the place of Jas. A. Garfield, I sometimes think they really know what they are talking about. He said that in ancient times it was customary to assemble the tribe upon an open plain or level piece of ground and select their leader the tallest one to be found, and we have something more important than stature to be considered. We propose to furnish a substitute for a man of undoubted character, of proven ability, of knowledge most profound; a statesman in the fullest and broadest sense of the word. Have we a man in this Congressional district that comes up to the standard?

Let us weigh in the balance what he would be. When we first sent Jas. A. Garfield to the U. S. Congress he was but the boy of the Jas. A. Garfield who has been elected to the U. S. Senate. Nature has made him of material and Garfield has made of him a great statesman. In my opinion the only thing left to be done is to select the best foundation stone to be laid upon the ruins of the fallen one.

Let us select the best foundation stone to be laid upon the ruins of the fallen one.

COLUMBUS LETTER.

Another Week of Legislation.—What the Solons are Doing at the State Capital—Some of the Bills Introduced.

The Legislature adjourned last Friday morning until Tuesday of this week after a week's work of presenting resolutions, etc., and if the bills continue to come in as lively as they have during the past week, there will be a vast amount of unfinished business left over for the next session.

A large portion of the bills that have been presented have been of a local character, such as the allowing of such and such a county to take a new court house, etc., and if the bills continue to come in as lively as they have during the past week, there will be a vast amount of unfinished business left over for the next session.

The bill to restore the State to the commonwealth district appointment of 1878, has up to this time failed to have been reported by the committee selected. Dr. Scott, of Warren county, who was the first one to introduce the bill, is chairman of this committee, and if the bill is not reported by this time, it will be a failure.
